11 Road Jobs Get Higher Priority Rate

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Priority classifications on 11 road projects will be raised from "B" to "A" ratings Jan. 1, the state highway construction council decided yesterday. The action will enable the state highway department to advertise for bids.

The move "indicates the very rapid progress by the highway department in getting the 1956 projects underway," said Cline Jackson, council chairman.

Jackson said priority rating changes were made possible by "A" projects either being put under contract or being near contract stage.

Projects given higher priority ratings included:

Four-lane pavement for 2.8 miles of Ohio 5 in Trumbull County.

Making 11th St. (U. S. 32) four lanes from Court St. to near Gay St. in Portsmouth.

Two new bridges on U. S. 33 in Hocking County.

The St. Clairsville bypass on U. S. 40 in Belmont County, making six miles of highway four lanes.

The highway department, at the same time, announced an estimated 190 million dollars in projects were let this year. This includes 24 millions for plans and detours, 27 millions for right of way and 139 millions for construction contracts. Seven million dollars in maintenance projects were not included in the figure.

She was taken to a hospital by police. After the broken glass was removed, she was treated for scratches in her throat and taken home.

BOOSTS FROM THE IKES — A blind World War II veteran is mighty glad President and Mrs. Eisenhower have come to Gettysburg, Pa. That's where Robert Johnson, 32, and his blind wife, Betty, live and sell rugs they weave. The Eisenhowers heard about the courageous couple and wanted to give them a boost. Mamie bought 10 rugs. Ike made sure reporters learned the story of this veteran who spent four years in the Valley Forge, Pa., Army Hospital undergoing 53 operations. He was hit in the face by a mortar blast at Saarbrücken, Germany, in 1945. The Johnsons, shown at their loom, believe the way to stay happy is to keep busy. So they started their rug business, although Johnson gets a veteran's disability check each month.

Ford Factory In Columbus 'Definitely Out'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus representatives who conferred with Ford Motor Co. officials in Detroit said last night a Ford plant here is "definitely out."

The statements by City Councilman Dewey E. Garner and Chamber of Commerce General Manager Delmar G. Starkey apparently crushed all hope of locating Ford's 43 million dollar steering gear and small parts plant on Columbus' north side.

City council last Thursday had rejected legislation to rezone a 403-acre northside site for heavy industry which would have allowed Ford to build the plant. Garner voted against rezoning, but later offered a compromise plan in an effort to bring Ford to Columbus. Yesterday, Garner, Starkey and two other chamber of commerce heads met in Detroit with top Ford officials and disclosed the compromise.

Afterwards, Garner said Ford officials held that "continued resistance of northside residents is too great . . . and might force a referendum. That would delay the company too long in construction of the plant."

Northside residents generally opposed building the plant in their area, saying it would destroy property values. One group of northside property owners even threatened a referendum or injunction if city council reconsidered and rezoned the Ford site for heavy industry.

Ford did not comment officially on its reported rejection of Columbus as a site. But a company representative said a rebuff of Garner's compromise apparently ended any further consideration of the capital city.

Official Says Industry Should Aid Education

CLEVELAND (AP)—A group of Ohio educators was told here yesterday that liberal arts colleges should be supported by industry because they supply most of the trained business leaders.

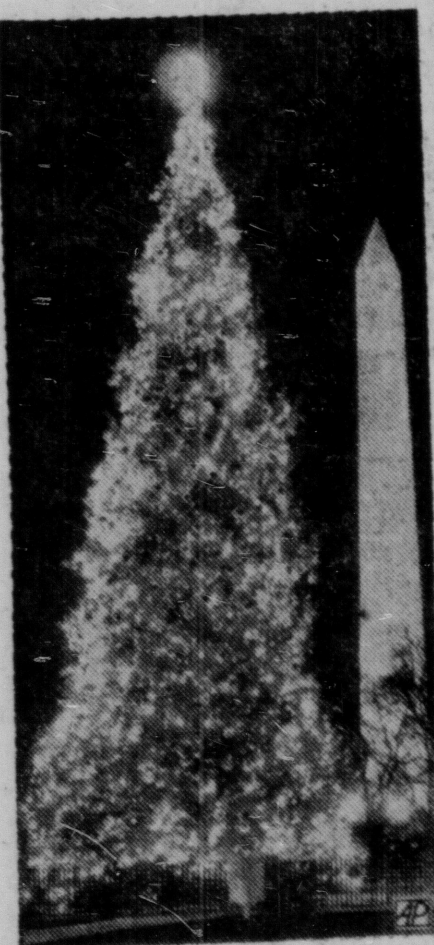

That opinion was expressed by Dr. Robert E. Wilson, chairman of the board of Standard Oil Co. of Indiana in addressing the presidents of all but two of the 24 member colleges of the Ohio Foundation of Independent Colleges.

"College help on society preserve those traditional freedoms and ethical standards without which American business could not operate," he said.

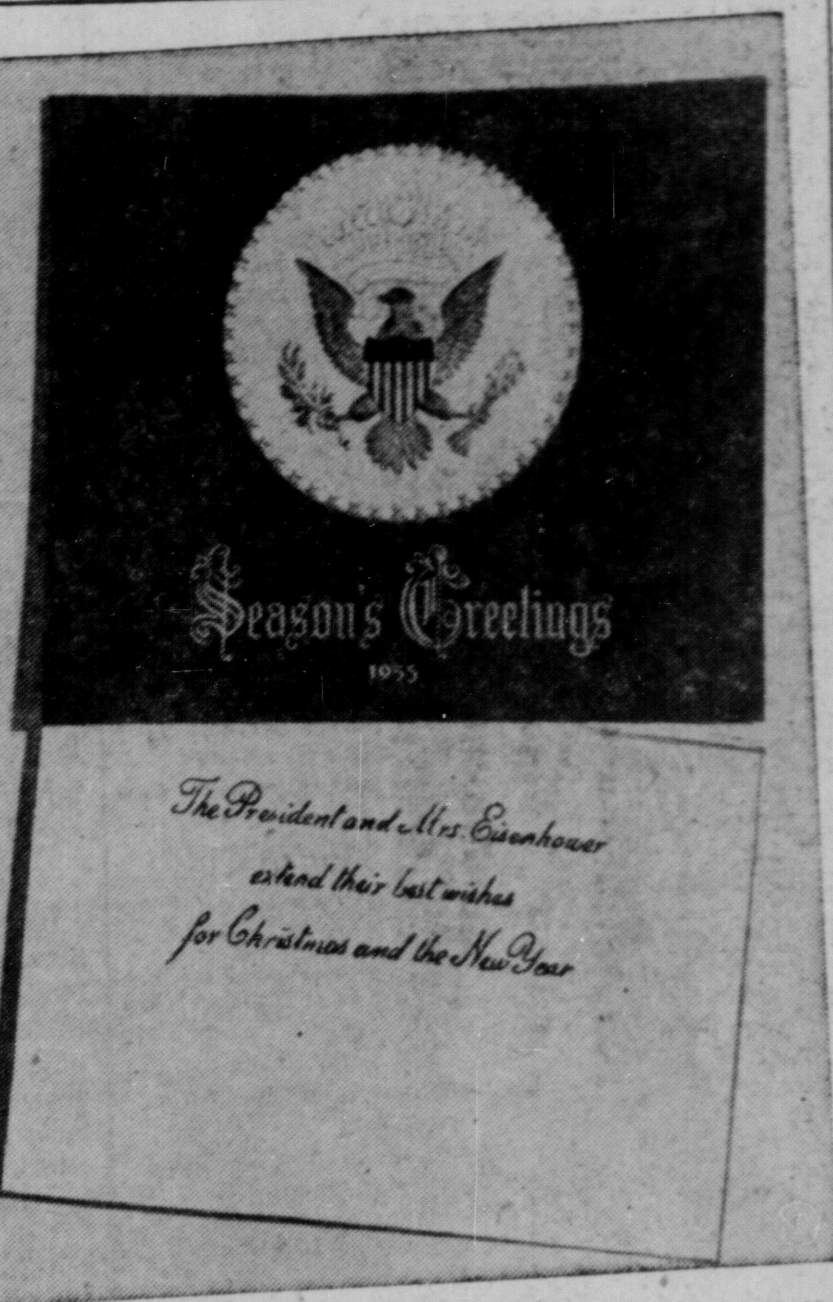

Recent court decisions he added, "indicate that it is not only the right but the duty of corporations to give aid to education."

Firestone Profit Tops 50 Million

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. laid claim yesterday to being the first rubber company to make a profit of more than 50 million dollars in one year. The firm said its net earnings for the fiscal year ended Oct. 31 was $55,378,916 on record net sales of $1,114,870,187. The sales increase of 21.7 per cent over 1954's $916,047,040 came during a year in which the price of natural rubber rose from 27 cents a pound to 49 cents.

Firestone's 1954 earnings were $40,509,944 or $5.02 a share. Earnings per share in 1955 were $6.81.

Committee Urges Struck Plant Close 5 Days

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner says he will write letters to mayors of 20 other cities affected by the Westinghouse strike, urging them to set up fact-finding committees similar to one here.

Sensenbrenner's committee of four local clergymen yesterday recommended closing struck Westinghouse plants for five days beginning this Friday. In that period, the committee said, the unions should withdraw pickets and "both parties (should) . . . agree to submit the issues to arbitration."

Sensenbrenner said, however, that he will not request the company to join in arbitration since he does not feel Westinghouse would be receptive.

He noted that Westinghouse earlier had turned down pleas of the governors to submit strike issues to arbitration.

To Insist On Putting Up Parking Meters

OSCEOLA, Iowa (AP)—Osceola citizens are wondering what's going to happen when the Dual Parking Meter Co. of Canton, Ohio tries to deliver and install about 150 parking meters the city no longer wants.

A contract for 150 to 300 meters was signed with the company by the city council May 6, 1954. A short time later, apparently in response to public opinion, the council directed the city attorney to write a letter cancelling the contract.

At a council meeting Monday night R. W. Zuber, Des Moines representative of the company, announced that about 285 meters will be shipped and 150 of them will be installed.

Mayor Joseph Banker said he wrote a letter to the depot agent here informing him that no meters addressed to the city will be accepted.

Zuber then said he would have them shipped to Des Moines and employ an installing crew to bring them to Osceola and put them up.

How It All Began

While figure wizards and financiers, both real and imaginary, are delving into the Ford secrets being published for the first time in connection with Security Exchange Commission rules on issuing stock for public sale, old-timers will be delving into recollections about how it all began.

Once there was a U. S. senator from Michigan, James Couzens; he died in 1936, after 14 years in Congress. Before that he had been mayor of Detroit. But his chief claim to fame was that he invested $2,400 in Henry Ford in 1903—when Ford had nothing but an idea about building an automobile priced for ordinary people.

When Couzens sold out to Ford in 1919, he reaped a fortune of $29,308,858 for his faith in a crackpot inventor 16 years before. Incidentally, the famous Model T, which was to justify the faith, did not come out until 1908—five years after Couzens and 11 other investors put up $28,000.

Even in 1908, faith had not been justified. Ford, himself, did not realize what he had done; he would have sold out the whole enterprise, according to Couzens, for a fraction of what he later paid Couzens alone. Before he could get control of his own enterprise, he had to borrow 75 million dollars from bankers. Then he had to pay off the bankers in the face of a buyers' strike that closed the Ford plant.

It was a tight squeak.

There's so much Ford money now that people have the impression it was always there, like the Rock of Gibraltar, or death, or taxes. The original Tin Lizzie, where the Ford fortune began, was bound to make a fortune for somebody because it was the right idea at the right time. But Henry Ford should get credit for more than mass production, where he was an authentic genius. He was a pretty fair genius in high finance, too.

He made the fortune.

Not Confused, Not Indifferent

Dr. John D. Porterfield's published list of buildings needed most by the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction will give the General Assembly a chance to get squared away for its special session a month from now.

The purpose of the session is to set in motion the state building program authorized last Nov. 8 by Ohio voters. Out of 150 million dollars that can be spent in the next five years, half must be spent by the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction. The other half belongs to educators.

It has been charged that the department lacks a master plan for spending its share of the money and that the Lausche administration is being indifferent.

Dr. Porterfield's recommendations for projects that would cost $22,500,000 in 1956, is a rebuttal to the charge of confusion. Gov. Lausche's statement that he approves the recommendations of his director of mental hygiene and correction, is a rebuttal to the charge he is indifferent.

Ohio waited a long time before making a decision to put 150 million dollars' worth of steam behind a building program. It cannot make up all the lost ground at once. The Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction needs so much that its problem is how to select what it needs most, to get an accelerated building program into motion.

Get A Horse!

One thing about Estes Kefauver must be granted without any quibbling. It is not in his nature to be coy about his presidential aspirations.

When he runs, he runs all over, like a fat woman in a sack race. His announcement that he is running again for the Democratic nomination makes the contest official. Kefauver was the pace-setter in 1952 and must be taken seriously again in 1956.

This can be said with due respect for Adlai Stevenson, who already was running. Stevenson never stopped running. When the race was over in 1952, he kept on jobbing around the track so he would be warmed up for the next heat in 1956.

Another entry for 1956 who was scratched, Averell Harriman, also has been warming up ever since then and proved that training pays by winning the governorship race. Except for Frank J. Lausche, who has announced he will run as a trial horse in the Ohio primary, all the potential candidates in the Democratic race for the nomination in 1956 are old campaigners.

The pollsters can write the form sheets on them from memory. Kefauver's name is mud to big-city political bosses who didn't like his crime investigating. Stevenson's easy gait eats up distance but leaves him nothing to turn on in the stretch. Harriman is the first tiger-striped player since Alfred E. Smith and will be looked at askance by tiger hunters.

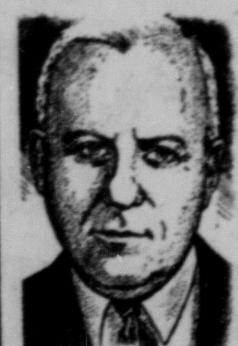

Not one of the entries is a match for Nashua, who was sold for $1,251,200 last Thursday. There's a horse!

'Typical U.S. View'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Mean Gives Clear Exposition Of Red Menace

An address was delivered the other day by George Meany, president of the newly merged AFL and CIO and reflects better than any governments' pronouncement ever issued that the American people really think about communism, about "neutrality" abroad, about "package deals" in the U.N., and about misguided "liberals" and "anti-anti-Communists" inside the United States.

Meany, who spoke before the National Religion and Labor Foundation in New York, pointedly questioned the course pursued by Nehru of India and Tito of Yugoslavia. What he said might also be pondered by the leaders of both major parties in the British Parliament who want to appease Red China and by Khrushchev and Bulganin of the Soviet Union because it comes from the head of the largest organization of free workers in the world with a membership of more than 15 million.

"TO MANY PEOPLE in the free world," said Meany, "fail to see the real nature of communism as the mortal foe of everything that we hold dear, of every moral and spiritual value. Too many in the free world are still prisoners of the illusion that communism is historically speaking — a progressive system — extreme liberalism temporarily making bad mistakes."

"Actually, communism represents the darkest reaction. It is a anti-social system in which there are imbedded some of the worst features of savagery, slavery, feudalism and life-sapping exploitation manifested in the industrial revolution of early-day capitalism."

"Too many in the free world seem to have lost their capacity for moral indignation against the most brutal inhumanities when they are perpetuated by Communists. It is painful, but we must face the cruel facts of life."

"We of the democratic camp must develop a far more vigorous moral attitude. We must rekindle our capacity to cry out against, to protest against, the godless dogmas and savage crimes being perpetrated by Moscow."

"SUCH STRUGLES and such protests are not negative actions. They are positive. They are morally and politically constructive. I know of nothing more positive and constructive than a total struggle against the totalitarian cancer in the body politic of modern society."

"It is rather disturbing to me that many people in our country who call themselves liberals are stone silent about the Soviet concentration camps. They never find the time to utter a word of condemnation against the Communist-imperialist destruction of the national independence and democratic rights of hundreds of millions of people in Europe and Asia.

"It is shocking to see the studied attempts being made by Western diplomacy to tear to shreds the Charter of the United Nations under the guise of the so-called package deal with Moscow and Peking. Can it be that the free world is so weak in its moral spirit that it does not recognize this deal as appeasement of the worst kind."

"I AM ALL FOR a fight to the finish against racism in our own midst. Racism is damnable and detestable in any form. But racism in reverse — as now propagated in India and Burma by Khrushchev and Bulganin — is just as reprehensible."

"And the Communist imprisonment of hundreds of thousands of hostages — so-called war prisoners — ten years after the close of the war, in violation of every human right and international agreement — is morally reprehensible. One would expect the true liberal to cry out in protest against human beings being carted, tagged and stuffed about for weeks in rail yards of Russia, as if they were carloads of coal or bags of potatoes."

"Not until we of the free world can give rebirth to a vibrant moral attitude, to a burning indignation against such frightful bestialities, can the freedom-loving people be sufficiently stirred to gather the moral strength for resisting and defeating the totally antithetical and deeds of communism at home and abroad. Yes, this means above all a moral struggle against communism."

"COMMUNISM is the very opposite of liberalism. Communism is the deadliest enemy of liberalism. Liberals should be the most consistent and energetic fighters against developing a certain type of McCarthyism of their own. They must shun like a plague the role of being anti-anti-Communist."

"Only by refusing to be thus entrapped can liberals shed every vestige of subconscious and conscious regard for communism as a movement with which they have something in common."

"Much more regard must be shown by the democracies for principles — for the principles of human rights and human freedom. We must never sacrifice principles to expediency. This means being rigid in support of our principles."

"Moscow is sure it has history's timetable in its pocket. Hitler once thought so, too. We have nothing to fear from peaceful competition. They need our help. We do not need theirs. They have nothing that can help us. What they have can only hurt us. But what we have they want from us in order to help and save them from the follies of communism and Soviet imperialism."

"WE MUST AVOID the suicidal self-deception of the popular front and united front."

"No country, no people, no movement can stand aloof and be neutral in this struggle. Nehru and Tito are not neutral. They are aides and allies in fact and in effect if not in diplomatic verbiage."

"In conclusion, I cannot emphasize too strongly to you: the conflict between communism and freedom is the problem of our time. It overshadows all other problems. This conflict mirrors our age, its toils, its tensions, its troubles and its tasks. On the outcome of this conflict depends the future of all mankind. I pray that, on the threshold of the atomic age, we all of the free world — can muster the moral courage and total strength to preserve the peace and promote the freedom of the men and women of every continent, color and creed."

U. S. Shoppers Aid Commies

By VICTOR RIESEL

Christmas season bargain hunters seeking to save pennies have just handed the sacrilegious Soviet satellite a neat bundle of American cash with which to pay for a colder war on us.

Our people have bought a estimated 25 million dollars worth of Communist Christmas decorations and religious objects, as well as canned food, glassware, hats and other textile materials for inexpensive gifts.

The Foles have dumped some 20 million Christmas decorations and thousands of packed hams (in tins) into the U. S. for Yuletide shoppers. The glass, religious objects and hats came from Czechoslovakia. And from Communist China, via Western Germany, no less, and other nations came silks, handkerchiefs and cotton goods. All made by slave labor...

DESPITE ALL THE TALK about Prof. Robert Hutchins' control of the Fund for the Republic, considerable power inside the organization is held by an old labor-boss, W. H. (Ping) Ferry, an associate of the late Sidney Hillman. Ferry is Vice President of the Fund.

He was publicity chief of the CIO Political Action Committee during the 1944 campaign...

NOW RUSSIA HAS whipped up a delegation of four Moscow plumbers to tour America and inspect our pipes. It all started when a Plumbers Union local in the San Francisco bay area, Richmond, California, was overwhelmed by the spirit of Geneva and telegraphed Premier Nikolai Bulganin an invitation to send over some pipe fixers to work here for a while and see how democratic American unions operate.

Quick like a rabbit, the Soviets had Comrade K. Emelyanova wire the union full acceptance — and report that they had four plumbers ready to pack their bags. The Russian plumbers, however, may never see the inside of an American pipe. The State Dept. won't waive its finger printing regulation on visas for the U. S. The Russians refuse to be fingerprinted. The head of the California Plumbers local now says it's up to the international Plumbers Union in Washington — and the Plumbers' leaders in Washington say they've not been contacted by Moscow and don't care if they never are...

WORD NOW IS that Teamster's president Dave Beck is not well and is planning to retire after making a trip around the world next summer. He then can become president emeritus of the Teamsters, thus retaining his AFL-CIO vice-presidency. He will still be a power in the merged federation... the Pest Control Council of America and the KnifeMakers Brotherhood or the Anti-Friction Bearing Workers Union or the Independent Radiocine Workers of America — but these are just a few of several thousand American labor outfits which did not merge with the big AFL-CIO. The grant total of little known independent unions runs to over 2 million members.

They've scheduled a Washington conference for Feb. 6, 1956, under the leadership of something called the National Independent Union Council. The independent chiefs hope they'll be able to laugh a new federation then to compete with the AFL-CIO...

THERE HAS BEEN no rush of top industry executives to apply for the job as financial advisor and business manager of Dave Dubinsky's 175 million dollar International Ladies Garment Workers Union. Dubinsky has been offering $25,000 a year for someone out of financial, real estate or business circles to run the union's 'complex business enterprises...' Everybody's singing the Hit Parade's smash song "Sixteen Tons" and thinking only of Tennessee Ernie, whose voice is heard on every juke box and mike these days. But the genius behind the song is no Tin Pan Alley sipper of Lindy's coffee. The words and music come from Merle Travis, son of a miner in Beech Creek Muhlenberg County, Ky.

TRAVIS HAS JUST WRITTEN to John Lewis' people that the "Number Nine Mine" mentioned in the song actually existed in the southwestern Kentucky coal fields. Travis is the son of a union miner and recalls that he would have starved during strikes if not for the "aid hall" — where "just enough beans and salt pork to keep body and soul together" was distributed to strikers' families. Now Travis, who is living in Hollywood, is making more out of one song than his Dad did out of a lifetime of coal digging...

You Can Have the Weather

By TRUMAN TWILL

I am going to do something about the weather.

Starting now, I am going to let pitchmen, run-for-the-hills experts and writers of lurid prose say what they please about weather because I won't be paying attention any more.

This resolution was reached after clawing my way out of a nightmare, the result of listening to a shrill-voiced Cassandra wailing a bedtime warning to get braced for the worst because the temperature had dropped to 63 below at Felt Boot, Minn., with high winds and heavy snow.

The game thing, he rasped ominously, would have descended on us by morning and crimped us all, if it did not go the limit and kill us in our beds. It was snowing, it was blowing, the temperature was falling, the barometer was falling, the dew point was rising and people who hadn't made their wills would be well advised to scribble simple directions on a piece of paper and hold same between their teeth in case survivors, if any, wanted to know how to dispose of the bodies.

The net effect of this doleful rumbling, plus another hair-lifting preview by a fellow who looked too young to die and was munching a sandwich in defiance of fate, was enough to make a man regret the time he swiped the underwear off the clothesline next door and stitched up the hatches of the union suits.

It was so overwhelming it made no impression when the cat was ejected that the stars were shining, there was no wind and the temperature was doing nothing alarming.

The blizzard that raged in my nightmare was as violent as the man said it would be — the man with the crew hair cut, not the one with the sandwich. Not a man, woman, or child was left unburied in drifts down to here — yes, down, not up.

It was as if I had been stuck into snow head first and was freezing from the eyebrows downward. The explanation was obvious; the covers had been pulled off my top half.

When I had clawed my way back to reality, I looked from the bedroom window to get a firm fix on reality.

The moon was swimming through a sea of fleecy clouds. The meadows had been freshened with a clean mantle of ice crystals. The temperature reading was nothing to think about twice. It was a beautiful winter night.

It was 63 below in Felt-Boot, Minn., and probably 90 above in Rio de Janeiro. There were high winds here and there. The barometer was rising and falling. The dew point may have been scandalous in many places both north and south of the equator.

But all weather, like all business, is local.

Why should I have nightmares over the weather in Felt Boot, Minn., Rio de Janeiro, or any other place on earth except the little valley where I shovel the snow, catch the leaking rainwater?

I am going to do something about the weather. I am not going to pay any more attention to people who make a big thing of it.

Santa Amid Federal Agencies

(If Santa had to have any correspondence with the Washington bureaucracy.)

Federal Yuletide Customs Administration.

Gentlemen: I propose to make my usual rooftop tour with my reindeers Dasher, Dancer, Prancer and the others on December 24-25. While I have never been required to show a permit before, this is an age of control and I am wondering if I need one.

Santa Claus

DEAR SANCHEZ CLAUS: Your letter with reference to licensing reindeers under corporate name of Dasher, Dancer and Fancher has been referred to the U.S. Midwinter Overhead Travel Bureau, of which I am director. The dates you ask for, January 8 to 16 are taken. You forgot to send in your 1952 to 1953 registration plates. Frisby Wattles

DEAR MR. WATTLES: I said nothing about licensing deer and their names are not Dasher, Dancer and Fancher. They are Dasher, Dancer, Prancer, Vixen, Comet, Cupid, Donner and Blitzen, not that it makes any difference. The dates I mention are December 24 and 25. I make my visit down the chimneys between 11 p.m. of the 24th and dawn of the 25th. All I am asking about is a permit.

Santa Claus

DEAR SAM KRAUSE: As assistant director of the Government Chimney Visits Bureau, to which your recent letter has been referred, permit me to state that your quota for new harness for reindeers is apparently exhausted. Why do you insist on the February 18 to 20 dates? We note the introduction of four new names, Goanet, Gruepidd, Sponder and Blitzenhauf, which are not in our files. We enclose form 4509 so that you may state the countries you propose to visit and for which you desire a passport. Also we call attention to the fact you sign yourself Sam Krause and do not give a middle initial. The thumbprints have not been received.

Roscoe Potts

DEAR MR. POTTS: I am sorry I wrote. Forget you ever heard of me. Further correspondence could ruin my whole routine which I am determined to carry out in the spirit of the famed Clement Moore verses.

Santa Claus

DEAR SANDY GLOSS: The Clement Moore you mention is no longer with our Federal Administration For Processing Traditions. We have a George Morehouse who will contact you regarding your application to leave the country.

Jason Fletcher

DEAR MR. FLETCHER: Nuts.

Santa

DEAR JAMES SANTRA: Your application for nuts received. Will send you the grapes and figs at once.

VICTIMS OF NEW YORK wire tapping are lying awake nights mulling the Edgar Allen Poe lines (somewhat revised) "While I nodded, nearly napping, suddenly there came a tapping." The requirement that only "peace-loving states" be taken into U.N. seems out the window unless you define peace loving as any state that doesn't knock on the door with brass knuckles.

Almost everybody has wondered why the cat-snip makers don't use a bottle so designed that the catsnip comes out easier. . . . Well, it develops that the country's largest producer turned out such a bottle and that several years' experience on the market showed that the old "tight neck" bottle outlasted the new type 30 to 1. . . . The conclusion is that neither the frugal housewife nor the restaurant man wants catsnip to come out faster. It being the national habit to use half a bottle per meal. . . . Lunchrooms are in fact serving it in atomizers.

Eden Shakes Up His Cabinet

R. A. Butler Becomes Government Leader

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Eden announced a wholesale reshuffle of his government today but British newspapers gave the changes a mixed reception.

Eden put seven Cabinet portfolios into new hands, raised one department to Cabinet rank and dropped another from the inner fold.

Nine of Sir Anthony's inmost official family stayed where they were and actually only three new men joined the Cabinet. Even some Conservative papers expressed doubts and Laborites—naturally—jeered at what they interpreted as a game of political chairs.

These were the most important changes:

1. Richard A. "Rab" Butler went from chancellor of the exchequer to government leader of the House of Commons. In effect he becomes deputy Prime Minister, the post for which he has been slated ever since the general election last May.

2. Foreign Minister Harold Macmillan succeeded Butler at the Treasury.

3. Defense Minister Selwyn Lloyd takes over the Foreign Office from Macmillan, and Sir Walter Monckton—who has been Labor minister—succeeded Lloyd in the Defense post.

4. The Works Ministry was raised to Cabinet status and Patrick Buchanan-Hepburn, chief Conservative floor leader in Commons, was named minister to replace Nigel Birch. The Ministry of Pensions was dropped from the Cabinet.

Those removed from the Cabinet—generally men above 60—either went to the House of Lords or to higher titles if they already had peerages.

The shakeup was Eden's answer to increasingly shrill criticism—spearheaded by the Labor opposition—of inflation on the home front and failure to cope with stepped-up Communist pressure abroad.

In addition to Butler, Macmillan, Lloyd, and Monckton, the new Cabinet appointments were Iain MacLeod, former health minister, (a sub-Cabinet post), who was raised to Labor minister, and the Earl of Selkirk, who replaced Viscount Woolton—72-year-old former head of the Conservative party organization—in the catch-all post of Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster.

FIRE LEVELS HOME, SIX KILLED—A Christmas tragedy took the lives of five children, two to 13 years of age, and the mother of two of them as fire leveled this four room home near Springfield, Ohio. Two others escaped the flames that started from a Christmas tree and spread to an oil stove, which exploded.

Students Asked To Aid Tax Collection

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state tax commissioner, Stanley J. Bowers, today enlisted the help of Ohio school students in his campaign to see that Ohio gets all the sales tax revenue it should.

Bowers estimated recently that the state loses 30 million dollars annually in sales tax revenues because tax stamps are not given for all purchases that require them.

Bowers is mailing bulletin board posters to Ohio school principals. The posters urge pupils to encourage their parent and friends to insist that they get sales tax stamps on all purchases where they are required.

The posters also point out that the cancelled stamps may be redeemed at 3 per cent of their face value by educational, religious, charitable and other organizations.

"Only by demanding sales tax stamps on taxable purchases can the consumers be assured that the money they pay for sales tax will be received for the support of state and local governments," Bowers said.

Recently, he pointed out that some merchants collect the tax but fail to give stamp to purchasers. In some cases, this is due to haste brought on by increased Christmas buying, Bowers said.

The posters carry a large picture of a sales tax stamp and with the suggestion "When you buy—always get your sales tax stamps."

Bowers is attempting to get the posters on bulletin boards in all classrooms. In his letter to principals, Bowers said, "Vendors invariably collect the tax from the consumers, but many of them fail to cancel tax stamps."

Firemen Still Work 63 Hours Despite Vote

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Warren firemen, awarded a 40-hour week in an ordinance approved by voters last Nov. 8, are being kept on their old 63-hour week anyhow.

The city claims it could not afford a 40-hour week without cutting the fire department payroll, and city council has amended the original ordinance back to the original 63-hour schedule.

Survey Shows Westinghouse Loans Now Total $400,000

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Associated Press survey of five struck Westinghouse plants in Ohio show the company has loaned about $400,000 in Christmas advances to its striking and non-striking employees.

Included in the survey were plants at Columbus, Mansfield, Lima, Newark, and Cleveland. The check included loans made through yesterday.

The Cleveland loan operation will get underway in earnest tomorrow when about 500 eligible workers at the company's lighting division plant will be offered pay advances. Yesterday, 12 of 80 workers at Westinghouse's manufacturing and repair division in Cleveland accepted $100 loans.

The company last week offered $100 loans, drawn on future pay checks, to strikers or workers who have returned to work since the nationwide walkout at 40 plants began last Oct. 17.

Under the plan, hourly workers must agree to pay back the loan in $5 weekly payments starting the fifth week after they return to work. The company does not charge interest.

The AP survey indicated about one-fourth of those eligible have asked for loans so far.

The Union City, Ind., plant, on the Ohio border across from Darke County, had loan requests from 114 workers, the company said. The plant reported 87 of its 475 employees back on the job.

At other plants in Ohio, here are the company-issued figures on the number of workers who have accepted loans, the number normally employed and the number who have returned to their jobs (the International Union of Electrical Workers, which comprises the main striking force, generally has disputed the number of returnees as "greatly exaggerated").

Columbus—Loans granted to 2,071

(including 560 strikers) of $400,000, with 240 back at work. Newark—73 (including 63 strikers) of 272, with 24 back at work. Lima—501 (including 34 strikers and 35 furloughed workers) of 2, state flower of Michigan.

Miss Carole Coy Becomes Bride Of William McConnell

Mr. and Mrs. William Hoover McConnell, who were married Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in the First Methodist Church, are honeymooning in Washington, D.C. The bride, the former Carole Coy, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Coy of 1012 N. Ellsworth Ave. Mr. McConnell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. McConnell of Lorain.

Mrs. William McConnell

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother, Rev. C. Clare Davis officiated at the double ring ceremony before the altar which was banked with palms and decorated with baskets of white pompons and red poinsettia plants. White tapers in twin seven-branch candelabra enhanced the setting which was centered with a cross.

A ballerina length gown of white embroidered satin was worn by the bride. The long torso bodice was designed with a scoop neckline and long sleeves pointed at the wrists. Her veil of illusion was attached to a matching cap. She carried a cascade of white feathered carnations and maidenhair fern.

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Donald C. Pollard of Indianapolis, Ind., was matron of honor. Miss Patricia Patterson of Cleveland, a former college classmate of the bride, was bridesmaid. The bride's sister, Miss Delora Coy, was junior bridesmaid.

Miss Coy's light green taffeta ballerina length dress was fashioned with a long torso and scoop neck with a long bow of matching velvet at the back. She carried a colonial bouquet of red and white carnations with a matching flower headband.

The other attendants wore dark green crystal-embroidered gown with V-necks and short jackets. Their hats were of matching green velvet. They carried cascades of red and white carnations.

Donald Pollard, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, served as best man. Ushers were Donald Voight of Avon Lake, Kenneth Kress of Lorain, and Robert Coy, the bride's brother.

Mrs. Coy's beige jersey dress was complemented with dark brown accessories and a corsage of tallisman roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink brown satin suit with brown accessories and a violet corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church social room. Misses Joan Schuller, Ann Sandrock, Bonnie Campbell, Sally Scullion and Sally Moore, friends of the bride, served refreshments to the 175 in attendance.

Adams-Pike Nuptials Are Held In Lisbon Christian Church

A white-carpeted aisle bordered by bows of white satin provided the setting for the wedding Sunday afternoon of Miss Carol Sue Adams and Jack Pike, both of Lisbon, held in the sanctuary of the Lisbon First Christian Church.

Rev. C. E. Richardson of New Waterford and Rev. Cyril Houston, pastor of the Lisbon Christian Church, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Adams of Lisbon and Mr. Pike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Pike of Lisbon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz length gown of imported lace with a fitted bodice and long pointed sleeves, and a Queen Ann collar edged in opalescent sequins. Enhancing the gown was a fingertip veil of illusion caught to a plateau of nylon lace and seed pearls. Her bouquet was fashioned of white roses and mums with satin streamers entwined with forget-me-nots. She wore pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

The maid of honor, Miss Barbara Pike, sister of the bridegroom, was attired in a waltz length gown of yellow crystal with matching head band. She carried bronze fringed mums.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Harold Adams and Mrs. Adams, sisters-in-law of the bride, were attired in crystal gowns of gold and bronze, respectively. They both carried bouquets of mums. Christine Nicholson was a flower girl, and she wore a bittersweet gown and carried a basket of yellow pompons.

William Fouders of Fairfield was best man for the bridegroom, and ushers were Harold and Glen Adams, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Adams wore a toast bengaline taffeta dress with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Pike was attired in a brown and beige print dress with brown accessories and a yellow rose corsage.

Guests from Chester and Newell, W. Va., New Castle, Pa., Rogers, New Waterford, Canton and Lisbon greeted the couple at the reception in the church parlors following the ceremony.

Mrs. Bruce Kessler and Mrs. Robert Morrison, both of Lisbon, presided at the wedding cake service which was set with yellow and white mums, yellow tapers in crystal and a wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Miss Sally Hill served at the punch table, assisted by Miss Shirley Magill, Mrs. Lydia Randolph, Mrs. George Tracy and Mrs. Fred Bott. Miss Josephine Teropoli was at the guest book.

Following a week's honeymoon, the couple will reside with the bride's parents.

The couple were graduated from David Anderson High School. Mr. Pike, an airman third class, will leave Jan. 12 for Labrador for 14 months' service. Mrs. Pike is employed by the McMillan Abstract Co. in Lisbon.

Quakers Trounce East Palestine 77-48 For Fourth Straight

Sink 54% Of 2nd-Half Shots

Hunter Tallies 25, Alexander 20 Points

By CARL NADRASY

The red-hot Quaker cagers, hitting on 54 per cent of their shots from the field in the second half last night, went on to record their fourth straight win in as many starts by humbling the East Palestine Bulldogs 77-48 before a capacity crowd in the high school gym.

After getting behind 12-8 with about five minutes gone in the initial period, the locals went on to garner seven straight points for a 15-12 first quarter lead that they never relinquished.

The visiting Bulldogs kept the contest tight through the first half as they were able to keep the score down to 29-21 Salem at the intermission. But the Quakers were not to be denied victory in the final half as they scored more than 20 points in each of the last two periods.

For the second time in four games, Senior Rich Hunter led the Salem attack with 25 points. Hunter collected 10 fielders and five fouls.

JACK ALEXANDER and Jim Meissner also scored high for Salem with 20 and 14 points respectively. Matt Klein had nine markers, John Stephenson six and Bill Pauline three, to complete the scoring.

High scorer for East Palestine was forward Bob Henderson with eight fielders for 16 markers. Close behind were guards John Dunlap with 10 points and center Al Huston with nine.

Although the visiting Bulldogs had two tall boys under the basket in Al Huston and Bob Henderson, the Quaker underneath men, Matt Klein and Mark Fenton, showed superior ability on the boards as they grabbed rebound after rebound from the opposition's grasp.

Fenton and Klein, although they are not scoring high, are playing a very important part of the game of basketball — that is, getting their team possession of the ball. Both have shown outstanding ability as defensive stalwarts without drawing an excessive number of personal fouls.

THE CABASMEN hit on 40 per cent of their shots from the field — 26.3 per cent in the first half and 54 per cent in the final half. From the foul line they meshed 17 of 24 attempts for a 70.8 per cent.

East Palestine, definitely hampered by the strong Quaker defense, sank only 17 of 65 field goal attempts for a 26.1 per cent shooting mark. At the free-throw line, the Bulldogs hit on 14 of 29 tries for a 48.2 per cent record.

The win was number four for the Cabasmen, who will be seeking to extend the streak after the holidays when they travel to New Philadelphia Jan. 6 to take on that city's Quakers and try to get even for the mauling the locals sustained in football this year from the Philly team. The next home contest will be with the Warren Harding Black Panthers Jan. 13.

The loss for East Palestine was their second in four starts. Coach Don Hinton's boys had previously beaten Dover St. Joseph and New Springfield and been dumped by Wellsville.

Blackhawks Pull "Hat Trick" Triumph

By The Associated Press
The three-goal "hat trick" is a rarity in major league hockey. When two players on the same team turn the trick in one game, it comes under the heading of a super-rarity.

That's what happened Tuesday night when the Montreal Canadiens defeated the Chicago Black Hawks, 7-1, to extend their National Hockey League lead to 14 points.

Maurice (The Rocket) Richard and Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion each blasted three goals past Chicago goalie Al Rollins.

All the other teams were idle.

Indians Sign Majeski To Manage Farm Club

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians today signed Hank Majeski, their former utility infielder, to manage the Tribe's Class C farm club at Daytona Beach, Fla.

The 39-year-old Majeski, who played for Cleveland in 1954, was traded last season to the Baltimore Orioles, who soon made him into a scout when he was hospitalized by an injury.

Potters Score 87-60 Win Over Mansfield

East Liverpool won their third game in five starts as they outscored Mansfield, 87-60, on the Potter home floor last night. The Potters outpointed their opponents in all quarters except the last, when Mansfield got 23 to Liverpool's 20.

Liverpool jumped off to an eight-point margin as the first period ended, 23-15. They also scored 23 in the second while Mansfield could only manage 11 and the first half ended, 46-26. The Potters held Mansfield to 11 points in the third period as they hooped 21. In the final stanza the Potters were outscored 23 to 20 but this was still good enough for a win.

Phil Hayes led the Potter attack with 21, while Mack and Bourne paced Mansfield with 14 markers each.

The East Liverpool Reserves captured their fifth straight game of the season and 24th game in a row as they downed the Mansfield jayvees 48-33.

The Potters next tilt, as many of the area schools, won't be until after the holidays.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. L. LIDE

Hunting pressure is down considerably although rabbits may still be taken through Jan. 2.

After Thanksgiving, the majority of hunters either hunt occasionally or forget about it altogether.

There are plenty of rabbits left as anyone can observe by the tracks in the snow. But once they are rounded they make for the nearest groundhog hole so it looks as if we will have a good brood stock left over for next year.

A notice a good stock of pheasants left over and toward evening they come out on the berm of the highways to eat grain.

Hunting has been better this year than in the past several years and prospects are even better for next year.

Frosh Mentor Named Miami Grid Coach

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Johnny Pont, freshman coach for three years, today was appointed head football coach at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. He succeeds Ara Parseghian, who resigned several days ago to become head coach at Northwestern University.

Pont was given a one-year contract. The appointment was announced by President John D. Miller, Athletic Director John Brickels nominated Pont for the position, and his choice was approved by the Athletic Advisory Committee.

The new coach, 28, is one of Miami's all-time gridiron greats. He was a halfback.

Pont set a record of 2,457 yards rushing and scored 154 points as a player at the university from which he was graduated in 1952. He is the only Miami player ever honored by retirement of his jersey number.

The first time he handled the ball in a college game, he returned a kickoff 94 yards. He was virtually unanimous All-Ohio, all Mid-American Conference and all-open choice at the end of each of his three varsity seasons.

Following graduation, Pont was drafted by the Green Bay Packers but was dropped as being too small. He finished the 1952 season with the professional Toronto Argonauts.

Pont was born in Canton, Ohio. He is unmarried.

Big 10 Fives Drop Three Cage Contests

By The Associated Press

Big Ten teams took a pounding from intersectional foes Tuesday night as they dropped three of four games with the state of Oregon making a clean sweep against two Western Conference teams.

Northwestern lost its fourth game in a row by dropping an 85-81 decision to Oregon and Michigan was trounced by Oregon State, 84-71.

Minnesota was beaten by Kentucky, 72-65, in the Kentucky Invitational Tournament but Purdue stayed at home and came in triumphant against Butler, 67-59.

It was Purdue's fifth victory in six games.

Ron Jecha, Purdue's leading scorer had to leave the game after the first two minutes because of a jammed knee and Lamar Lundy, Boilermaker football star, took over and scored 24 points to lead the attack.

Minnesota found Kentucky center Bob Burrow too much to handle and was never really in the game as the Wildcats jumped to a 36-26 halftime lead. Burrow was high scorer with 27 points while Gerry Calvert contributed 16 points to the cause.

Despite 27 points by Dick Mast and 26 by Glen Loe, Northwestern blew an eight point halftime lead and was still looking for its first triumph of the season. Oregon's Max Anderson pumped in 31 points and Jerry Ross added 21 as Oregon won going away.

Although four Michigan players scored in double figures, the Wolverines proved to be no match for Oregon State as they dropped their second decision in four games.

Northwestern will take on Oregon State tonight and Michigan will take its chances against Oregon. Michigan State returns to action and is home to Notre Dame, rounding out the Big Ten schedule.

Don Newcombe Signs Dodger Contract For '56

BROOKLYN (AP)—Pitcher Don Newcombe and the Brooklyn Dodgers were all smiles today, after the big righthander quickly came to terms with the world champions for a 1956 contract calling for a reported $25,000.

This was $5,000 less than the once belligerent Newk said he would demand but represented a $7,500 boost over his 1954 salary

Rams Having Troubles Prior to Title Game

LOS ANGELES (AP)—What next for the Los Angeles Rams?

Victims of an uncommon run of injuries all season, the Rams today faced the possibility of meeting the Cleveland Browns for the National Football League championship without the services of their veteran offensive center.

Leon McLaughlin, it developed, has the mumps.

The 228-pound product from UCLA is in bed. The team physician won't know until later this week whether he can play — and coach Sid Gillman had still another major worry.

Did anyone else—including himself—catch the mumps from the ironman of the Ram squad?

So Gillman, hurt just the day before when his big fullback, Tank Younger, was sidelined from the game with a broken neck vertebra, set about to improvise.

He said Bobby Cross, 250-pound offensive tackle, would take McLaughlin's place except on punt plays. Bob Griffin, a star center at Arkansas, will take over on those occasions.

Utah Drops Decision, 77-73; Dons Continue Winning Streak

By JOHN CHANDLER
The Associated Press

It appeared today as if the University of Utah walked into the same kind of a trap as a year ago, when the highly rated Utes found the University of Kentucky field-house one of their biggest jinxes.

While San Francisco retained its No. 1 status Tuesday night by downing Wichita 75-65 at Wichita, Kan., Utah saw its No. 3 ranking slightly tarnished when Dayton won a 77-73 decision in the opener of the Kentucky Invitational Tournament at Lexington.

Jim Paxson, a 6-foot-6 Dayton mainstay, was the big man around the basket for the nation's fourth-ranked college club as he contributed 35 points to the cause. It was Utah's first defeat in six games, and ran Dayton's string to 7-0. Paxson's total was a record for the Kentucky tourney. Gary Bergen led Utah with 24 points.

In the other game at Lexington, Kentucky downed Minnesota 72-65 as Bob Burrow collected 27 points. Dayton will be a slight favorite over Kentucky in tonight's title game. Kentucky, ranked ninth nationally, appears to be recovering after a bad start this year.

The San Francisco Dons racked up their 32nd straight, 6 this year, by turning back Wichita as 6-foot-10 All-American Bill Russell tapped in 17 points. Bob Hodson, who fouled out for Wichita, also got 17.

Loyola of the South spoiled another unbeaten record Tuesday night, defeating Bradley 71-65 at New Orleans. Loyola converted 21 of 26 free throws, 11 of 12 by Bobby O'Donnell, who wound up with 31 points.

The best charity shooting of the evening came, however, in the Carrousel Tournament at Charlotte, N.C., where Wake Forest sank 43 of 55 in a foul-riddled game to defeat Colgate 87-80. Jackie Murdoch got 21 points, including 17 of 20 fouls. John Nichols had 22 for Colgate.

Clemson's underdog Tigers upset Tennessee 89-86 in the other semifinal and meets Wake Forest tonight for the championship.

Other ranking teams came through without too much trouble in other games. Temple ranked 12th, continued unbeaten by thumping Pennsylvania 93-72.

Duke, No. 14, walloped Pittsburgh 92-54, to run the Blue Devil string to 6-0. Oklahoma City University, No. 15 this week, pulled away in the last half to sink Auburn 76-58.

St. Louis choked off a second half rally by the University of Washington and won 85-77. Mack Carter sank a layup with 38 seconds left to give Oklahoma A&M a 67-66 thriller over Oklahoma and Tulsa defeated Baylor 64-59. Purdue defeated Butler 67-59 as Lamar Lundy, a football end, started with 24 points.

West Virginia scored its third Southern Conference victory by beating Richmond 89-74. "Hot Rod" Hundley scored 21 points for the Mountaineers.

Michigan and Northwestern of the Big Ten both took thumpings at Corvallis, Ore. where they lost to Oregon State 84-71 and Oregon 85-81, respectively.

In another tournament at Quantico, Va., Mt. St. Mary's (Md.) beat Washburn 78-75; Ball State won over the Georgia Teachers 93-87; Akron Ohio downed Iona (N.Y.) 67-54, and the Quantico Marines overpowered LeMoyne (N.Y.) 109-86. In the championship bracket, Quantico meets Akron and Mt. St. Mary's plays Ball State today.

Syracuse, Boston Win Cage Games

By The Associated Press
The New York Knickerbockers, slumping badly, dropped a 98-91 decision to the Syracuse Nationals Tuesday night in Madison Square Garden after the Boston Celtics had turned back the Minneapolis Lakers, 111-104, in another NBA game.

The results left the Knicks and the Nats tied for last place in the eastern division while the Celtics jumped into second place. The Minneapolis defeat buried the Lakers further in the western division dungeon.

Reserves Blast Bulldogs 95-54

Locals Chalk Up 3rd Straight Victory

Coach Karl Zellers' Salem Reserves spotted their opponents, the East Palestine Reserves four points in the first quarter of a rugged contest last night and then went on to cripple their opposition 95-54 for their third straight win.

The game was one of the roughest seen in a long time in the high school gymnasium as a total of 53 fouls were called on both teams. Three East Palestine cagers had to leave the game via the five-foot route, with one of them, center Bob Gibson, leaving with five personals after only seven and a half minutes had elapsed in the contest.

Coach Zellers started the game off with what can be considered his second Reserve team of Darryl Adams, John Sturgeon, Bill Pauline, Dan Weber and Mark Weber.

The starting quintet held the visiting reserves even at the start of the game but the Bulldogs reserves began to pull away 21-13 near the end of the period. A late spurt of six points for the locals to two for Palestine made the first period score 23-19 in favor of the visitors.

Opening the second quarter the Salem Reserve ment sent in his entire first team of Bill Schuster, Joe Bryan, Tom Alesi, Ted Jackson and Dick Beall. The complexion of the game began to change as the new five narrowed the lead down and then went ahead 33-32 with about four minutes left in the first half.

The locals then moved out to a comfortable five point lead of 43-38 at halftime.

In the second half the hometown reserves really poured it on as they tallied 52 points to 16 for the Bulldog Reserves. Substitute Bob Platt led the attack with 23 markers, all scored in the final half.

Also scoring high for the Zellers-men were Ted Jackson with 16 points and Bill Pauline with 15. Ten other local reserves made the scoring column.

High scorer for the East Palestine Jayvees was guard Rich Westover with 13 markers, followed closely by center Bob Gibson and guard Bill Riddle with nine points apiece.

Gophers Whipped By N. Lima Cagers

The Goshen Union Gophers met a roadblock in their quest for an undefeated season and their fifth straight victory last night as they were upended by an unbeaten high-flying North Lima squad 71-62 on the Goshen court. North Lima has now won its eighth straight tilt this year.

Victory seemed assured for the Gophers they broke out to an early first period lead of 20-13. But the North Lima quintet started to hit with deadly accuracy in the second stanza and narrowed the intermission totals to 32-30, Goshen.

In the final half it was all North Lima as they outscored Coach Joe Tucker's Gophers 20-16 and 21-14 in the third and fourth quarters, respectively, to take a second half lead that they never relinquished.

Forward Jim Earley was again high scorer for Goshen with 23 markers. Joe Plasket led his North Lima teammates with 21 tallies.

In the preliminary Jayvee tilt, the North Lima Reserves made a complete sweep as they got by the Goshen Reserves, 33-24.

Goshen Union's next game will be with Jackson-Milton at home Jan. 3.

Bobo Rockefeller's Father Dies In Washington

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Julius Paulekas, 68, father of Barbara (Bobo) Rockefeller, died last Tuesday in Washington Hospital following a lengthy illness.

Paulekas, a coal miner who retired several years ago, came to the United States from Lithuania 52 years ago. He was divorced from his wife shortly after Bobo's birth.

Neither Bobo, ex-wife of millionaire Winthrop Rockefeller, nor another daughter, Mrs. Henry Hellman of New York City, were present when Paulekas died.

Bobo visited her father here in April, 1954, when he became critically ill. He improved and had been living with a cousin.

Funeral services will be held Friday.

Clippers Edged In Thriller By Poland 57-56

Poland nipped Columbiana in a thriller 57-56 on the Clippers home floor last night. Poland outpointed Columbiana in the initial period, 17 to 14, but the Clippers came back and dropped in 14 to Poland's 11 in the second period and the half ended in a 28-28 deadlock.

In the third period Poland put in 12 to Columbiana's 10 and in the final period Columbiana outpointed Poland 18-17 but Poland came out on top 57-56.

The high scorer for Poland was Dick Berkert who put in 18 points while Brad Tingle and Randy Ball shared scoring honors for Columbiana with 15 and 14 markers, respectively.

Kids Enjoy Visit From Star Gridders

By CHRIS EDMONDS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Don't ever get the idea that a hospital for crippled children is always a place of sadness. It isn't.

It's doubtful whether there was any place in the country with any more genuine happiness Tuesday than the Shrine's Crippled Children's Hospital here.

Two wards full of youngsters with twisted arms, legs, spines and feet shouted with glee as they were visited by two busloads of college football stars.

There wasn't a tear shed in the place. The football players, men who will meet in the 31st annual Shrine game Dec. 31 had as much fun as the kids.

Take Don Schaefer, Notre Dame fullback, for instance. Schaefer drew as his special "buddy" a little brunette named Sandra who told him "I'm almost six but I'm not the youngest one in his ward."

The big fullback then launched into a story of a pre-Christmas party he'd had with his family. Sandra enjoyed every minute of it.

Stu Holcomb, who resigned last week as Purdue coach to become athletic director of Northwestern, came down the hall carrying a small boy with one foot in a cast. "He's a dandy," grinned Holcomb. "I'm going to take him home with me to play with my youngest son."

The tiny lad, his eyes shining, clung tightly to Holcomb's arm.

Buckeye Star Ordered To Rest By Hayes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, who arrived here from Columbus, Ohio, Monday night with a bad cold, has been ordered to bed for the next couple of days by Coach Woody Hayes.

"He's just beat," said the Ohio State coach in reference to the Buckeye All-America halfback. "I'm going to put him away someplace for a couple of days. What he needs is rest."

Cassidy will play on the East squad in the 31st annual East-West Shrine football game here Dec. 31.

Berlin Center Beats Randolph For 5th Win

Coach Maurice Scott's Berlin Center Blue Devils showed uncanny accuracy for mthe free throw line last night as they humbled the Randolph cage squad 71-51 on the Randolph floor.

It was the fifth victory against one loss for the Blue Devils, who won last night's fray on their foul shooting ability. The Devils meshed 33 of 40 for an 80.2 per cent average. Randolph hit on nine of 26 foul attempts in a game that saw a host of foul infractions.

From the field, Berlin Center was outscored by Randolph 19-21.

Forwards Harold Wilson and Jim Coman were high point-getters for the Blue Devils with 24 and 23 markers respectively. Center Lee Barnes also broke into double figures with 14 points.

Forward Tony Horning of Randolph led his teammates in scoring with 13 tallies, while forward Bill Flanagan and center Floyd Mullet were not far behind with 11 apiece.

The defeat was the third for Randolph compared with two wins.

Randolph's Reserves turned the tables in the Jayvee game, winning 31-26 over the Berlin Center Reserves.

The Blue Devils' next game will be at Fairfield Jan. 3.

Freed Medical Missionaries In Manila

MANILA (AP) — Dr. and Mrs. Homer V. Bradshaw, American medical missionaries freed Tuesday after five years imprisonment in Red China, arrived at Clark Air Force Base from Hong Kong today for medical treatment.

A U. S. Air Force spokesman said no interviews would be permitted because of the couple's physical condition. Both are suffering from acute malnutrition and Mrs. Bradshaw has had a mental breakdown.

Weighing only about 80 pounds, the woman was incoherent and stared blankly at Red Cross, British and American officials who received them at the border. Her husband said she could not realize that she had been freed.

Today, after a night with her husband at St. Teresa's Hospital, Mrs. Bradshaw still showed signs of fear. When she saw newsmen and photographers at the airport, she turned her face away and covered it with shaking hands.

Crew members had to half lift both Dr. and Mrs. Bradshaw into the plane.

The couple will be given a thorough medical examination in the Philippines. Dr. Bradshaw said he plans to take his wife to her father's farm near Pittsburgh, Pa., to recuperate. Dr. Bradshaw himself is a native of Pittsburgh.

the present annual level of about $4,200,000,000.

Thus if Congress made available $4,900,000,000 in new appropriations, 500 millions of this would go into the reserve fund. Byrd said this reserve ought to be cut down, not increased.

Secretary of Defense Wilson told a news conference Tuesday there should be a "substantial" increase in reserve funds for foreign military aid. He said these reserves had shrunk from a peak of $8,500,000,000 on June 30, 1953, to about $4,800,000,000.

Wilson said some military items require a long time to make and that money should be available for them in advance so firm contracts can be let.

Byrd said he is not raising objection to any "reasonable" expenditures in that field. But he insisted that contracts could be let under advance congressional authorization without actual appropriation of the money until it is needed.

ment of education for consideration.

Will Appeal to State
Knox School Superintendent John Pickens said today that if the county board rejects the request after petitions are submitted, the Knox board will appeal to the State Department of Education. The state would have until August to act.

Pickens explained that the state would hold a hearing on the merger proposal before reaching a decision.

The Knox district has a new elementary school for grades one through eight, but has to send its 192 high school students to Goshen, Sebring and Alliance.

In other action Tuesday night, the county board approved a workshop for bus drivers for Jan. 19 and okayed $30 a month for traveling expenses for Fred Lohman of RD 2, Salineville, county attendance officer.

It was the last meeting for Lloyd Farmer of RD 2, Leetonia and John Lucas of RD 1, Salineville, who will be replaced in January by J. Paul Wilms of RD 2, Columbiana and J. Warren Bettis of Salineville.

Jury Deliberating On Bank Judgment Case

LISBON — A Common Pleas Jury went out at 10:30 this morning to decide the case of the New Waterford Bank versus Janet Williamson and her husband Robert of Belmont, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rubich of RD 5, Salem.

Closing arguments were presented in the case Tuesday afternoon. Judge Joel H. Sharp, presiding in the case, delivered his charge to the jury this morning.

The bank is trying to collect a $13,215 judgment rendered by Judge Sharp last year against the defendants.

Mrs. Williamson contends that her name on the $14,000 note on which the bank claims judgment, is forged.

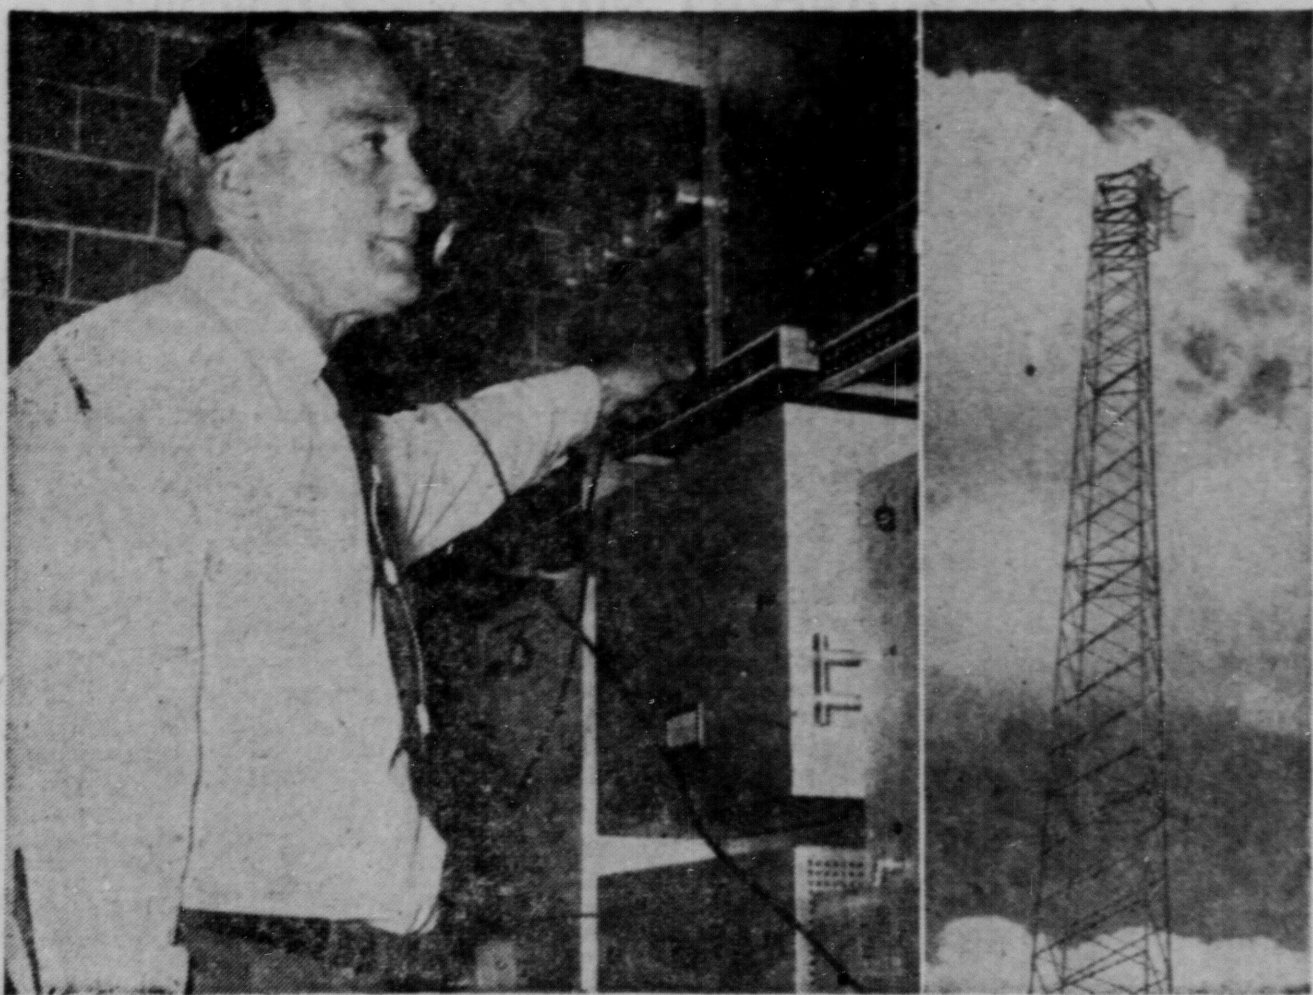

In his charge to the jury, Judge Sharp said that forgery is the main issue in the case. He also told the jury that the case was "very, very serious" because perjury was also implicated.

Judge Sharp instructed the jury to ignore any newspaper articles discussing results of a lie detector test because he said he excluded results of the test from the testimony.

Jury Calls For Death For 'Mad Dog Killer'

PRINCETON, Ind. (AP) — The death penalty was recommended Tuesday night by a jury which convicted Leslie Irvin, 31, described by the state as a "mad dog killer," for the slaying of one of six persons he is accused of killing.

The Gibson Circuit Court jury of 12 men deliberated 90 minutes before convicting Irvin of murder in the slaying of Wesley W. Kerr, 29, an Evansville, Ind., service station operator, in a robbery Dec. 23, 1954. Sentence was delayed by Judge A. Dale Eby pending filing of appeals by defense attorneys.

Irvin maintained outward calm when the verdict was read. His only gesture was to reach over and pat the hands of his mother, Mrs. Alice Irvin of Evansville, who broke into violent sobbing.

In the packed courtroom was Mrs. Goebel Duncan, survivor of a triple slaying also charged to Irvin. Goebel Duncan, 51; their son, Raymond, 21, and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 19, were shot and killed at the Duncan farm near Henderson, Ky., March 28.

All of the slayings were committed during robberies.

Mrs. Duncan, shot by the assailant, survived but was blinded by a bullet wound in the head. Irvin also was indicted for the killing of Mrs. Mary Holland, 36, in an Evansville liquor store Dec. 2, 1954, and Mrs. Wilhelmina Sailer, 47, at her home near Mount Vernon, Ind., March 21.

The trial, which began Nov. 11 was brought here on a change of venue from Vanderburgh Circuit Court at Evansville. More than 500 persons were examined in the four weeks required to seat a jury. Most of them were excused because they said they had formed opinions in the case.

Missiles

probably will be of cruiser size and incorporate the newest of armaments, such as guided missiles.

Wilson remarked that he was "not quite ready" to discuss the over-all organization of the armed force in guided missile development and production.

But he did provide a more definite index of what he previously had described as a substantial expansion in the missile field.

The plan is for the Defense Department to spend about one-third more next year on guided missiles than in the present year. The estimate for such spending this year is about 750 million dollars. Wilson said the shift in emphasis is from conventional weapons to "things we would like to have."

There were questions about the intermediate range, ballistic missile, which Wilson had indicated at an earlier conference should have a range of about 1,500 miles — compared with a sought-for range of 5,000 miles for the intermediate range ballistic missile.

The Army is working on an intermediate missile at its Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala., where it has produced a tactical range rocket called Redstone with a reported 300 to 500-mile range.

Wilson said the Redstone project is "simply an extension of what they have been doing." This suggested that the range of Redstone is being boosted, possibly by the use of a multistage rocket.

Secret Pals Revealed By Jolly Time Club

The Jolly Time Club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Charlton of Greenford. Miniature candles were favors at the place settings at the table decorated in holiday appointments.

A gift exchange revealed the names of secret pals. New pals were chosen for the coming year. The next meeting will be Jan. 12 at the home of Mrs. Leola Wilt of Sebring.

which will supervise examination of all applicants for licenses.

The examining board will administer plumbing tests, make rules and regulations, subject to the approval by the board of health. Under the measure no plumbing work will be permitted without a permit from the board of health, except repairing leaks and/or replacement of existing plumbing.

Additional fees for plumbing permits are:

Each septic tank and leaching device, $5.

Reinspection per trip on original permit, $2.

Each vent stack through roof, $1.

The measure gives the sanitarian authority to suspend the licenses of plumbers for incompetency or violation of the city plumbing code pending hearings by the board of health.

Edwards, prior to voting against the measure, declared he was opposed to a "regulation of this type, although the intent is probably good."

Councilman R. M. Linder said he, too, was opposed to measures restricting businesses but that he had studied the ordinance and found no objection to it.

City Sanitarian Angelo Vivino, in reply to a question by Councilman Arthur Hanna, said the measure would not prevent persons from repairing plumbing installations in their homes.

Other Council Action

In other action last night Council:

Passed two ordinances authorizing the payment of $25 to Harold Whipkey of 1248 Cleveland St. and $20.03 to Paul Shone of 1020 E. 3rd St. for damages caused to their cars by city employees while spraying tar on streets.

Passed an ordinance authorizing the transfer of $78.64 from the incidental fund to the law library fund.

Passed an ordinance authorizing the leasing of an unused storage basin at the old city pumping station on E. State St. to the Salem Quaker Pistol Club for a target range.

Accepted and ordered placed in the minutes a letter from F. H. Waring, Ohio State chief sanitary engineer, referring to an inspection of the sewage disposal system here made by his department Nov. 23. Waring said the construction of the improvements to the disposal plant were progressing satisfactorily.

Council heard a report from Mayor Dean B. Cranmer in which he stated that the $2,250 annual fire protection pact with Perry Township had been signed.

He said also that city officials had discussed with township trustees a proposal that the trustees place a levy on the ballot of the next election to finance the purchase of a tank truck to afford greater fire protection to the township.

The truck under discussion was a 1,000 gallon tanker, capable of being operated by one man. The vehicle would be garaged at the Salem fire station and maintained by the city, although owned by the township.

The mayor declared also that a contract authorizing the codification of the city's ordinances at a cost of $1,900 had been signed with representatives of the Banks-Baldwin Law Publishing Co. of Cleveland.

Voices Appreciation

The mayor expressed appreciation to councilmen and other city officials for their cooperation during his term in office.

Councilman Edwards, a Democrat, in a speech prior to Council's adjournment, criticized the Salem News for stating that the 53 per cent sewer rental tax enacted by the present Council was higher than the 65 per cent tax passed by the previous administration.

Edwards said he had read the statement in the paper a number of times, although he didn't name a specific date. He declared also that the "Salem News was kind to us despite its political affiliations."

The councilman also claimed City Auditor Helen Coyne's statement in September that the city faced a possible deficit at the end of the year "was a political move."

City Skating Pond Near 8th St. Now Open

The city's recently constructed ice skating pond at Memorial Park is now open to all residents during the day, according to Mayor Dean B. Cranmer.

Evening skating to 10 p. m. will begin tomorrow after Ohio Edison maintenance men conclude lighting work at the pond.

The ice skating center was recently built by city workers, who dammed up a field on the west side of the drive off E. 8th St. A shelter house was built and lighting poles were also installed.

The pond was flooded several days ago from a creek running on the north west side of the artificial pond.

Ford

Co., but by the Ford Foundation, the philanthropic trust set up in 1936 by Henry Ford. They'll be shares of the Ford Motor Co., nevertheless, although none of the money realized will go to the firm.

To Make Paper Profit

Present stockholders—the Fords, key officials and the foundation—stand to make a handsome paper profit, however, because sale of the shares will establish a market price for their own holdings.

The foundation says it is selling the shares because it wants to diversify its investments, now almost entirely Ford stock. The 19 shares to be sold will represent only about 15 per cent of the foundation's holdings after planned recapitalization of the share structure.

The shares involved will represent 60 per cent of the voting rights. It's expected they will be listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Handling the public offering will be seven investment firms, which are expected to name some 700 other houses to participate in the underwriting. The widest possible distribution of the shares will be sought. Wall Street looks for a fast sellout.

The price at which the shares will be sold probably won't be announced until shortly before Jan. 18. Wall Street observers have suggested a range of $60 to $70 a share. At the lower figure, the foundation would net around 420 million dollars.

In preparation for the offering, Ford Motor shares are being reclassified. At present there are 3,322,385 shares of nonvoting class "A" shares and key employees 42,140. In addition, there are 172,645 shares of voting class "B" stock, all held by the Ford family or its interests.

The foundation has announced that these changes will be made: Three new classes of shares will be issued instead of the present "A" and "B" and the number of shares will be increased through splits to 53,461,470. (That compares with 278,683,500 shares for General Motors and 8,702,264 for Chrysler.)

The fact that the shares in public hands will represent 60 per cent of the votes doesn't necessarily mean the public will be able to control affairs of the company. Since the shares will be widely distributed, and in small lots, at that, it is unlikely that enough shares could be consolidated to match the Ford family's 40 per cent.

Public Ownership Of Ford To Bring Some Changes

NEW YORK (AP)—The Ford family takes the plunge today. And when the nation's richest family-owned company becomes a publicly owned corporation there's bound to be some changes made.

The Ford family will keep control of management. But from next month on they'll have a flock of stockholders looking over their shoulders.

The public, too, will be privy from today on as to how much the Ford Motor Co. makes, how much it pays in taxes, and what it does with its profits—how much of the profits are paid out as dividends and how much retained by management to run and expand the business.

Stockholders can be awfully fussy about slim dividends and fat retained earnings.

It was a quarrel over the policy of retaining profits for expansion that led to the Ford Motor Co.'s becoming a solely owned family proposition in the first place.

Henry I wanted to turn the mass of the young firm's earnings into growth. His partners wanted to divvy the profits up as dividends. Henry I settled the dispute by buying out the partners and making it a family deal.

When the Ford Foundation sells some 6,900,000 shares of Ford voting common stock around the middle of January, with the avowed aim of getting as wide ownership as possible, the Ford family will retain operating control. But it will have a vast throng of new and curious partners.

So the Fords will have to learn the lively art of conducting stockholders meetings. Up till now the Fords presumably could hold a stockholders meeting in one of their own parlors. Henceforth, they'll have to hire a big hall.

And the stockholders will get on their feet. Some will ask questions because they really want to know. Others, the professional stockholders, will ask questions because they want to be seen.

At first the influence of the public stockholders will be slight. But as time goes by they are expected to edge closer to actual as well as theoretical control, especially as the Ford Foundation (which now holds the great majority of Ford stock, in non-voting shares) sells more of its holdings to the public on a voting basis.

But the motor company is looking for other effects now from the sale of stock. One is the belief that hundreds of thousands of shareholders all will become potential customers for the company's cars, trucks and tractors.

Another benefit—and one that also played a part in the setting up of the Ford Foundation—will be the avoiding of the inevitable loss of family ownership in the company through inheritance taxes.

At the time of the death of the first Henry Ford, and even earlier at the death of his son Edsel, the foundation inherited large chunks of stock, tax free.

With the great mass of ownership in the company already in the hands of the tax-free foundation, the Ford heirs were able to meet the inheritance taxes without having to sell their own stock.

If Henry Ford had retained all the stocks himself, at his death the company might have had to be sold to meet the government's stiff inheritance tax.

The financial district expects that, little by little, over the years the control as well as the stock ownership will slip from the family's hands.

In that sense today's filing of financial statements with a federal agency—despite its more immediate effect of satisfying public curiosity—marks the end of an epoch. It marks the last of the big company managements in which the public doesn't have a hand.

Disbarred Lawyer Wins Fight To Be Cleared

URBANA, Ohio (AP)—Attorney J. Harvey Crow of Cleveland, disbarred last May by a three-judge tribunal, has won a victory in his fight to return to practice.

The second district court of appeals yesterday reversed the findings of the tribunal, saying the three judges committed "prejudicial error" in failing to file a statement of facts in the Crow hearing. Such a statement points out conflicting testimony in a trial.

The Champaign County Bar Assn. brought disbarment proceedings against Crow, charging questionable practices in his handling of divorce cases. Judges John Case of Fayette County, Paul P. Dull of Mercer County and Charles R. Kirk of Clinton County heard the original action.

OVERRULES NEW TRIAL

CLEVELAND (AP)—Municipal Judge John V. Corrigan yesterday overruled a new trial motion filed for Miss Helen Jaffrin, convicted of contempt for allegedly trying to "fix" a traffic ticket for Miss Janice Strickland, a former Akron resident. Miss Jaffrin's attorney said he will take the case to the court of appeals.

Patrol Chief Warns Of Holiday Danger

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Christmas holidays may bring "the most dangerous 78 hours of the year," the superintendent of the state highway patrol said today.

Col. George Mingle said the 1953 Christmas season provides additional hours for driving since the holiday occurs on Sunday and will be observed on Monday. Traffic authorities set the holiday period from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday, a total of 78 hours.

Col. Mingle said "It will be up to each individual driver to accept his responsibility—patrolmen cannot sit behind each wheel."

He said 18 persons were killed on Ohio highways on Dec. 24 last year and 10 were killed Christmas Day, Saturday. The death toll for the three-day period was 35, with seven fatalities occurring Sunday.

Mingle reported 203 fatalities on Ohio highways last December, the greatest toll of any month.

Taverns Warned Of New Year's Eve Hours

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Liquor permit holders were warned by the state liquor department today that regular hours of sale will be enforced on New Year's Eve.

William C. Bryant, liquor director, said "regulations set a specified time for each type of permit holder to stop selling alcoholic beverages. Neither this department nor anyone else has the authority to deviate from these hours."

Since New Year's Eve falls on Saturday night, some municipalities may forbid intoxicating liquor from being sold after midnight Saturday, Bryant said. State law allows municipalities to curtail intoxicating liquor sales on Sunday.

FACES ARREST, KILLS SELF

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff Joe Smith said Frank Simons, 68, a former Madison County election board member, shot and killed himself yesterday when a deputy sought to arrest him.

Simons ran from the home of a divorcee near Wrightsville and put a shotgun to his head as the deputy approached, Smith said. Simons, he added, was wanted on a charge of pointing a firearm at the divorcee's exhusband.

Hanoverton Christian SS Plans Program

HANOVERTON — The Christmas program given by the children of the Christian Church Sunday School will be held in the church sanctuary Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Those in attendance are invited to participate in the party to be held in the church annex following the program. Santa Claus will be present.

Mrs. Olive Swearingen has received word that Mr. and Mrs. Charles Westrick of Canton have been injured in an automobile accident. Mrs. Westrick has visited frequently here.

A gift exchange was held when 25 members of the Lepine - Rush American Legion Post Auxiliary met in the Legion hall Tuesday. Mrs. Harold Raley presided when the group brought gifts to be packaged and mailed to the Veterans Children Home at Xenia. A cover-dish preceded the business meeting. The auxiliary meets the second Tuesday of each month.

The son born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davis has been named Michael Duane. The Davis' are former residents.
